Commentary

During our last session, we expressed concern about the frequency the company has returned proposals to us with suggested edits or tentative agreements. In response, the company informed us that these conversations take time and that work is indeed being done...but only receiving two proposals back with suggested edits, which were promptly returned. With twenty-five proposals currently on the table, a return rate of 8% does not fill us with confidence that the work is, in fact, getting done. It is a sign that the honeymoon phase of bargaining is over.

Bargaining Dates

The next dates for bargaining are October 21st and October 28th.

Next Steps

We appreciate seeing the solidarity with everyone either wearing red on bargaining days and/or changing profile pictures! We'd ask that you continue to show your solidarity on bargaining days. If you need a union shirt, reach out to your local stewards with your shirt size and we will get you one based on availability.
